Matters Arising

Nothing carried forward.

RoW South Lakes (Steve Pighills)

Steve reported that the Tilberthwaite survey will be restarting soon. Andrew Broomby added that he had seen the new survey form which is more balanced than previous versions.

Steve Pighills will be attending the next meeting of the LAF (Local access forum) on 25th Jan.

RoW North Lakes (Steve Stout)

Sandy Lane at Crosby on Eden is under review with CC, I've taken it off the GRM until some things have been confirmed.

Coach Road is in dire need of some drainage and surface work. Two sections are bad. I'm on the permissions trail, but we may not get any with current situations of Unitary Authorities. The £500 from TET will go towards this.

GRM/HoTR review. A small team are currently checking both online county maps against the GRM & HoTR lanes. Once finished we'll update both authorities and members. There are some missing already.

Frazer reported that there is a large puddle which is some 3-4ft deep on the lane from the radar station to Hartside top.

RoW Craven (Graham Parker)

Graham reports that there is a review underway of the network of lanes including Dacre Lane in the Settle area. Central TRF are aware.

Gatescarth (Andrew Broomby)

The next event is this coming Saturday 13th Jan. Volunteers required to assist with Marshalling. Link here: <https://fb.me/e/6gkohnu2fo>

Website (Eddie Flint)

Discussion about group name brought about by a decision to be made about web and e-mail addresses. Are we Cumbria and Craven TRF or just Cumbria TRF? The bit in question being the inclusion or not of Craven, which was appended to the group in the past, but which now transpires to be a duplication with the North Yorkshire TRF group. Considerations are parity in naming for Central TRF, our bank account and our online representation. In order that Eddie can progress with our domain name and e-mail addresses an interim decision was taken by vote that we will adopt Cumbria TRF for our online presence and with Central TRF and that the annual group return from Cumbria to Central would reflect this. Changes are due at the bank as we are changing treasurer and signatories. It was noted that banks are apparently seeking to offload the accounts of clubs and societies so the matter should be approached with this in mind.

Equine Events (Richard Harrison)

Nothing to report.

Treasurers report (Mark Gill)

Handover from Ian to Mark to be scheduled when Mark back from holiday.

Social events (Rod France)

Nothing to report.
